COLLECTIF 50/50 PLEDGE FOR GENDER PARITY AND INCLUSION IN FILM FESTIVALS

Launched at the 2018 Cannes Film Festival, the COLLECTIF 50/50 initiative is requesting that film festivals across the world make the following commitment to gender parity and inclusion.

Luxembourg City Film Festival Festival agrees to make the following commitments:

- 1- To compile statistics of gender of the directors of all the films submitted to selection, and when applicable, to also compile all members of the cast and crew mentioned in the registration process of the film.
- 2- To make public the gender of all the members of selection committees and programmers as well as all programming consultants.
- 3- To make public the gender of executive boards and/or boards of directors and to commit to a schedule to achieve parity in these bodies.

The festival commits to giving a full update to COLLECTIF 50/50 in six months and also to make public their progress during next year's festival.

COLLECTIF 50/50 will be compiling the list of participating festivals and will share it widely.
